gaily Republican.
HARDEN & MOSSER PUBLISHERS.
DECATUR, ILLINOIS.
SATURDAY EVENING, NOV. 22, 1878.

THE New York Herald, in noticing the controversy between General Sherman and Secretary Seward, says: "The difference is not at all a question of similarity or of veracity, but of the comparative value of two sources of information. It is a pitting of second-hand impressions against long and accurate personal observation by officers who have passed a great part of their military life in close contact with the Indians."

MANY of our readers will recognize in the name of the man shot by his son at Hot Springs, Ark., yesterday, a former well-known resident of Illinois—Dr. L. B. Allard, of Cass county. He removed to Hot Springs some years ago, and for a time published a paper there.

DURING the past year, in the Southern States, 1,020 illicit stills have been seized, and 2,990 persons arrested for violating the national revenue laws.

SENATOR ALLARD, of Iowa, who has arrived in Washington, states that he apprehends no attempt by the Democrats in the next Congress, or the Clerk of the House, to exclude the members who were elected from that state in October.

THERE is a chance for the Hon. G. Q. Cannon, Congressional delegate from Utah, to rise and explain. Mr. Young, a deputy sheriff from Utah, says that Cannon admitted to him that he set himself a certain at the late Mormon women's meeting and told them what to do; also that he wrote the papers the women read.

It doesn't make much difference whether Geo. Logan, Gen. Oglesby, or Hon. C. B. Fairwell is elected to the United States Senate from this state, but we believe that most of our readers prefer that Senator Oglesby should be his own successor. The Republican majority is six on joint ballot, and there is no question that a Republican will be selected. —Tribune Journal.

CIVIL rights have had a new vindication lately in Virginia, at Danville, where Judge Rivers, of the Federal Court, decided that the conviction of two negroes for murder was invalid because they were tried by a jury consisting solely of white men. In his opinion the Judge commented elaborately upon the Civil Rights law and upon the Kansas State law which required jurors to be summoned irrespective of color or race, and which, he said, he adopted in his own Court, intimating that the State Judges, however, were not so careful to regard the provisions. He admitted that it lay in every Judge's sound discretion to decide who was a competent juror, but he said that a negro had a right to demand to be tried by his peers, and that therefore Judge Thawley, Circuit Judge, violated the law of the United States in refusing to award a summons for a special venire to be composed in part at least of negroes although there was no proof offered in either case that the white jurymen were at all prejudiced or incompetent. Virginia Judges have made some progress since the day when Chief Justice Taney declared in the Dred Scott decision that a colored man had no rights that a white man was bound to respect.

MISS FANNIE LOUISE BUCKINGHAM—On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week Decatur people will be treated to a very exciting and attractive dramatic entertainment by this very popular actress. Below we give what the Washington Union says of the performance at the National capital:

Quality after the opera house doors were opened last night there was a great rush for seats, and when the bell rang for the curtain's rise, every seat in the house was filled and many persons were standing. It was an excellent house, and very comfortable. Fanny's romantic specialties, "Managers" was on with Miss Fannie Louise Buckingham as the star. This lady, an actress of rare histrionic abilities, handsome face and form, an unexcelled grace and attractiveness, appeared for the first time in Washington, and to her credit be it said, she proved greatly superior to all expectations. We have seen "Managers" performed by other distinguished actresses, but the performance last night places Miss Buckingham in advance of all, and the conventional applause that was bestowed upon her throughout the evening proved that the audience knew how and when to appreciate real merit.

An Antidote which will cure every variety of Ague, Fever and Ague, and Chills and Fever, and leave no bad trace or disorder in the system, has been discovered by one of America's greatest chemists. This preparation or Antidote is known by the name of CURRISON'S FEVER-EXPELLER. It is entirely free from minerals or other deleterious material, it accomplishes its work without being in the least harmful to the system. Entering the blood, it dissolves and expels all the poisonous elements of malarial and thus accomplishes its purpose.

OGLESBY SHOULD BE HIS OWN SUCCESSOR.
From the Paris Bureau.
The election is now over, the result declared, establishing the fact of a small Republican majority in each branch of the State legislature. It is therefore in order that the Republican press of the State make known its wishes and that of the people of their country as to who our next United States Senator shall be. Hon. Richard J. Oglesby has faithfully represented the people of Illinois for one term, never shrunk from declaring his sentiments by speech and vote in the senate. He has ably sustained the State during the past months and greatly aided in achieving the success our party has obtained. And now that it is in our power to elect a United States Senator, our Representatives and Senators should come together in a spirit of harmony and a determination to do justice to the Republican people and their faithful servant in the councils of the State, on the battle field, and in the councils of the Nation, Hon. Richard J. Oglesby.

That we are not alone in our belief that Senator Oglesby should be his own successor is evidenced by the following from the Danville Commercial:

We do not know it is any of our business, but it looks to us this way—Gen. Logan two years ago was crowded out of his senatorial seat by David Davis, and we think he ought to reverse his forces for a dash to recover it four years hence. To attempt next winter to displace Senator Oglesby as his own successor will be a mistake. Dick Oglesby has a heart that beats warmly in sympathy with the great popular hero, he has been a faithful senator and has given perfect satisfaction. He deserves to be his own successor. His defeat next winter, especially by Logan, would look very much like a condemnation of a faithful public servant. Let Oglesby alone. Let Logan get ready to chase out this avowed senator when his time expires.

DIPHTHERIA AND ITS TREATMENT.
Springfield (Mass.) Republican.
Diphtheria is a disease which springs from the growth of a real fungus on some of the mucous surfaces of the throat. It may be spread by contact of the mucous surfaces of a diseased with those of a healthy person, as in kissing, and is to a limited degree epidemic. From the local parts affected it spreads to the whole body, affecting the muscular and nervous systems, vitiating the lymph and nutrient fluids, and producing paralysis. As soon as the bacterium or fungus appears in white patches on the throat, it should no more be neglected than a bleeding gash or broken arm, and there is almost as little need of a fatal termination of one incident as of the other. It has been found by actual experiment, both in and out of the human system, that this bacterium is killed by several drugs, the safest and most certain of which is chlorine water. diluted with the addition of from two to four times the volume of water. This wash is harmless, even when swallowed, and is pretty certain to arrest the disease. The great cyclopedia of Zimmern on the practice of medicine gives the highest place to this method of treatment. To keep the patient well housed and warm, with additional flannel clothing if necessary, and to keep the system well nourished and the bowels open are matters of nursing often neglected, but, with care in these respects and early application of the remedies above suggested, there is no need of the disease proceeding to a fatal termination, or even to the debilitating illness and painful emaciations which go together in its later stages. As to the origin of diphtheria, the weight of testimony is that it belongs to the class of filth diseases, but further than that its source is not clear. Families which would be condemned at the suggestion of untidiness are attacked, while others of filthy surroundings escape. This simply shows that our sense of cleanliness needs cultivation, so that we may discriminate between what is offensive to our falsely educated tastes. The farmer's wife, to whom the closed and carefully dusted parlor or the pretentiously scrubbed floor are the essentials of neatness, may endure the proximity of a sour swamp or of the kitchen cesspool for years without taking offense. To many a careful and laborious housekeeper, a chance cobweb or the children's "litter" of a few hours' play will outrank in offensiveness a defective drain for the cellar or a badly constructed privy.

LATE reports of the Pomerania disaster make the total number of lives lost fifty-four—seventeen being of the crew and thirty-seven passengers. But for the fortunate circumstance that other vessels were in the immediate neighborhood, the loss must have been much greater. There is reason to fear that little credit is due the officers of the ship for the escape of so large a proportion of her living freight. A competent sailor who was on board and who has been detained by the English authorities as a witness, asserts that before the steamer sank there was time to save every life, if order had been preserved. He heard no fog-horn or whistle sounded before the collision, and no orders given afterward. One of the officers of the steamer told him that the doors of the water-tight bulkheads were all open—a piece of carelessness which is probably responsible for all the terrible destruction of life; for the purpose of these bulkheads is to prevent the filling of any portion of the ship except that which may be damaged in a collision or otherwise spring a leak. This explains the otherwise inexplicable sudden sinking of the Pomerania, while the smaller vessel which sunk here remained afloat and went into port. According to the testimony of this witness the channel was as still as a river at the time of the collision, and "all could have been saved if the sailors had not rushed to the boats." If this evidence is true, it would have been as well, perhaps, if a passing steamer had not rescued the captain of the ill-fated ship. He seems to have had no control over his crew, and little command of his own faculties at a most critical moment.

MONTECAL, Nov. 29.—The streets which a light frost has made passable are crowded with citizens and strangers. The decorations are magnificent, and public buildings will be brilliantly illuminated this evening and the stores and residences will have tasteful transparencies with appropriate mottoes. Although the Vice Regal train was not expected until 1 o'clock the holders of tickets giving admission to the railroad depot were taking their places at 11 o'clock.

As early as 11:30 the route of the procession was densely packed, and the people growing in enthusiasm with the approach of the hour when the new Governor General and Princess Louise would arrive.

At 12:20 the Governor's train made its appearance and the military were taking position.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30.—The scramble of the Democrats for those offices in the Senate that are now held by the Republicans, and which they will continue to hold during the coming session of Congress, has begun in earnest, and no sooner does a Democratic Senator arrive than he is asked to pledge himself in favor of certain candidates. For the four or five responsible offices in the Senate there will be fully one hundred candidates. Colonel L. Q. Washington, the correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal, who held a high position in the State Department of the Confederate Government, is a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms, and is confident of his election. He stands well.

Superintending Architect Hill says that two of the persons who are named in the Chicago indictment as conspiring with him and others to defraud the Government he never saw nor had any communication with, direct or indirect. If Mr. Hill is suspended from his office during the trial it will be by a direct order from the President, and contrary to Secretary Sherman's advice. It is held by the latter that the same rule should be extended to Hill as was applied to General Anderson, the member of the Louisiana Returning Board, who continued to act as Deputy Collector and to sign official papers in jail, after his trial and conviction by a State court. Assistant Secretary Hawley has not yet got over his indignation at Hill's indictment. He asserts that it is "simply outrageous, and on a par with the indictments in the South." It is certain that all the Treasury influence will be exerted to prevent Hill's suspension, and that the New England Senators will remonstrate with the President in Hill's interest.

A letter received here to-day from Jacksonville, Fla., from a Democratic source, claims that Bisbee, Republican, is defeated for Congress, and that Hill, Democrat, has a small majority after the votes were counted in all the contested precincts as ordered by the Supreme Court of that State.

South Carolina Democrats claim that there will be no opposition to Governor Hampton in his candidacy for the Senate.

Thanksgiving was not generally observed in Virginia. A leading Virginia Democratic paper of to-day says that it "was not observed because Mr. Hayes had no right to issue a proclamation asking the people to take a day's holiday."

A Wisconsin politician, who arrived here to-day, says that it is settled that either Senator Howe or representative Philatus Sawyer will be chosen United States Senator for six years by the new Legislature, with the chances decidedly in favor of the former. Matt Carpenter's total strength is put down at 20 at the outside figure.

A dispatch from Columbia, S. C., says that the United States Grand Jury has come into court with true bills against a number of Democrats for assaulting the Supervisors of Elections, voting more than once, and for interfering with Deputy United States Marshals on the day of election. The bills would not have been found but for the emphatic charge of District Judge Bryan that the jury must take notice of the acts of men who deliberately interfered with United States officers while in the discharge of their duty.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 29.—The Allard family troubles culminated to-day in the shooting of L. S. Allard by his son, H. C. Allard, better known as Cad. Some time ago L. S. Allard obtained a divorce from his wife, and it is claimed by a portion of the family that Allard has indulged in a series of abuses and persecutions ever since. The troubles of this family have been constantly before the public for some three or four years back, and they are in such a terribly mixed up condition that it would seem to be utterly impossible for matters ever to become straightened. This afternoon Allard approached the residence of his former wife and demanded admittance. He was met on the threshold by his son Cad, who informed him that he could not enter, as his mother had already suffered abuse enough at his hands, and he did not propose to have more of it. Allard replied with a terrible epithet, and made a motion to draw a pistol. Cad picked up a double-barreled shotgun and immediately fired both barrels. The first shot took effect in the face of his father, the other lodged over his head. L. S. Allard turned and ran from the house, the son going back inside the dwelling. Cad was soon after arrested by Sheriff Law and gave bond for his appearance in the sum of $1,000. Allard's injuries are dangerous, and in all probability he will not recover.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 29.—About 8 o'clock to-night six prisoners confined in the McLean county jail succeeded in making their escape by cutting a hole through a brick wall. The rest of the prisoners were prevented from escaping, but up to 10 o'clock to-night those who had escaped had not been captured.

LONDON, November 29.—The Russian Ambassador had a long conference with the British Minister of Foreign Affairs, yesterday, before the meeting of cabinet council.

LONDON, November 29.—The condition of the iron and coal trades in South Staffordshire district is growing worse, and the closing of the works and the reduction of wages are noticed. Kenish hop-growers say: "As the general depression of agriculture and commerce is largely caused by the protective tariffs of foreign countries, the duties on foreign productions should be revived."

LONDON, November 29.—One of the Pomerania's boats has been recovered with a bag containing $25,000. The owner of the money is saved.

NEW YORK, November 29.—The following dispatch was received to-day from Hamburg: "Three officers of the Pomerania remain at Dover, to identify the bodies. The Captain is ill at Rotterdam, suffering from exhaustion. "Total missing, thirty-seven passengers and eleven of the crew."

GLASGOW, Nov. 29.—The liabilities of Henry Taylor & Sons, grain and flour merchants, amount to $650,000.

GALVESTON, Ill., Nov. 29.—Public feeling in this city is greatly agitated and horrified over the discovery of facts which indicate that a system of wholesale body snatching has been carried on in this city for a number of years. Similar offenses committed in other cities have led to investigation, which has brought to light facts which, to say the least, are startling. A leading physician estimates that fully 100 dead bodies have been taken at different times from the Catholic Cemetery, which is situated in the eastern suburbs of the city, and buried on two sides by woods, and a few farm houses in the immediate vicinity. It is probable that the bodies are sent to other cities for dissecting purposes. Several graves in Hope Cemetery were also examined, and the remains could not be found. The authorities are on the watch, and while they may not be able to detect the guilty parties, yet measures will be taken to prevent similar crimes in the future.

MONTECAL, CAN., Nov. 29.—At the appointed time the vice-regal train swept into Bonaventure depot, where was assembled the elite of this city to the number of between 3,000 and 4,000, who cordially cheered the Governor General and the Princess, as they proceeded to the throne at the east end of the building, and in front of which were assembled the members of the corporation in full dress, and wearing rosettes, with the Mayor in the scarlet robes of his office at their head.

It should be borne in mind that Erman has in connection with his extensive clothing house a merchant tailoring department, with a very fine assortment of piece goods, which will be made to order at the lowest figures, and perfect fit guaranteed.

Two officers of North Street Church, Decatur, Ill., (Mr. Goodwin's late charge), are so well pleased with their new pastor, Rev. T. A. OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Annie E. McBride.

A deep gloom was cast over our community last evening, by the sudden death of Mrs. Annie, wife of Mr. O. H. McBride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bowers, which took place at the residence of her parents soon after six o'clock. Mrs. M. had been in delicate health for several days, but no serious apprehensions were felt by her friends until within an hour or two of her death. She leaves a husband and a little boy between two and three years of age, to suffer a loss in her death that cannot well be made up.

Deceased had a large circle of acquaintances and friends in Decatur, where the years of her girlhood and early womanhood were mostly spent, and by all who knew her she was held in high esteem. Possessing as she did a sweet and happy disposition, all who fell within the circle of her acquaintance became her friends, and perhaps no death could have occurred in the city that would touch more hearts or cause more universal sorrow than does hers. About four years since she was married to Mr. Oliver McBride, and afterward removed with him to Danville, where they resided a couple of years or more, after which they returned to Decatur, and were residing here at the time of her death. As soon as the tidings of her death began to spread last evening, many friends called to sympathize with the afflicted family and to express their deep regrets that one so good should so soon be called from life.

The funeral services will take place at Stapp's Chapel, on Monday, Dec. 2d, at 10 o'clock a. m., Rev. B. MacBurney officiating. Friends are invited to attend.

THE BIG BONANZA.—The lecture of Miss Jessie E. Wilson at the tabernacle this evening is most talked about, and a big crowd will doubtless go to hear this brilliant young lecturer. Tickets are on sale at W. R. Abbott's, Curtis & Ewing's, J. S. Hand's, and at Priest's Hotel. Admission only 25 cents. Let there be a big rush. The Chippewa Falls audience pays Miss Wilson the following flattering compliment:

The person of the speaker would command attention anywhere. Tastefully and becomingly dressed, of modest and graceful bearing and gestures, with a voice perfectly modulated and controlled, and a well-kept faultless elocution, she made an impression on the people of Chippewa Falls which makes them all desire to hear her again.

MAZEPPA.—Is one of the most attractive and thrilling entertainments now being given on the American stage, and Miss Fannie Louise Buckingham, who appears as the star, is eminently popular in her role. The act in which she crosses the stage, bound to the wild horse of Tartary, is in the highest degree exciting, and everywhere calls forth tumultuous applause. On Monday and Tuesday evenings an opportunity will be afforded to witness this thrilling play. To-day carpenters are at work preparing the stage of the opera house for the special act in which the wild horse rushes over the mountain.

DEATH OF NEWELL JONES.—Mr. E. A. Jones, on the 27th inst., received a telegram from San Antonio, Texas, announcing the death of Newell Jones in that city on that day. Deceased was the oldest son of Mr. J. J. Jones, formerly of this city, now permanently located at San Jose, California. He was a young man well known here, and the intelligence of his death is received with sadness.

POST, THE PAWNBROKER.—On or about January 1st next, Mr. Herman Post, who is now closing up his entire stock of watches, clocks and jewelry, at less than cost, will open a pawnbroker's shop, on East Main street, in the store room now occupied by Foley, the tailor. It will be a branch of a Chicago establishment, and money will be loaned on all sorts of valuables on easy terms. Verily, Decatur is putting on metropolitan airs.

A MURDERER ARRESTED.—Last night an officer belonging to Sullivan, came here with Charles Everman in charge, who murdered a man near Sullivan a few weeks ago, by severing his head from his body with a corn knife. Everman was arrested in some town in Kansas, and the officer had been after him. The prisoner was lodged in our county jail over night for safe keeping, and to-day was taken to Sullivan by the officer having him in charge.

AN ERROR CORRECTED.—Being somewhat musically inclined ourselves, we know by experience that musicians are apt to be sensitive as a class, and as we always try to be particular to get names correctly, we now correct an error in our report of exercises at the Baptist church on Thanksgiving day. It was L. I. Ferris, the shoe man, and not Capt. W. P. Ferris, the old man, who sang on that occasion. It is a noticeable fact, that while these gentlemen both answer to the same name and are both fine musicians, they are so like.

BETTER BY A DOG.—Yesterday Miss Mellic, youngest daughter of Anthony Moroney, residing northeast of the central depot, was seriously bitten by a vicious dog, belonging to Mr. Brooks, the expressman. The dog was killed this morning by policeman Leake. The girl's hip is badly lacerated.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.—A mule belonging to Eeq. Fuller strayed away some days ago, and its owner came to the REPUBLICAN office this morning and ordered some postal cards printed, to advertise his loss. Before the cards were printed the mule came home. Like Capt. Scott's ome, he gave himself up as soon as he knew what was after him.

At the tabernacle this evening the Italian will play and sing from seven to eight o'clock, so that all who desire can enjoy a fine concert and listen to a good lecture for an admission fee, and that only 25 cents.

CHURCH CONCERT.

Stapp's Chapel Academy's First Public Entertainment.

Stapp's Chapel Academy, recently organized, gave their first public concert in the church last evening, and a goodly number of people were in attendance. The entertainment consisted of select readings, recitations, solos, duets, quartet singing, and delightful music by the Italian band. The following persons participated: Rev. S. MacBurney, Rev. M. Chittenden, of the U. B. church, Miss Nona Gibson, Miss Penna Wayne, Miss Lulu McKenzie, Mr. Ed. Sloan, Mr. Fred. Wessels, Miss Abida Handy, Miss Alice Priest, Mrs. J. C. Lake, Mrs. A. W. Conklin, George Handy and Miss Rose Judson. Altogether it was a very pleasing entertainment. We understand the Academy is weekly adding to its membership, and will give a number of entertainments during the winter.

Malignant and subtle indeed is the poison of Scrofula, and terrible are its ravages in the system. They may, however, be permanently stayed and the destructive virus expelled from the circulation with SCROFULA'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, a potent vegetable detergent, which eradicates all skin diseases, leaving no vestige of them behind. White swelling, salt rheum, tetter, abscesses, liver complaint, and eruptions of every description are invariably cured by it.—Sold by S. M. Irwin, the Live Druggist, Decatur.

A SHORT RUN.—Yesterday afternoon Constable Welte's horse broke from his moorings, on the west side of Warren & Durfee's office, and with buggy attached took a lively turn around the American House corner, upsetting the buggy and bringing up against the fence of Culp's wagon yard. One of the wheels was broken, also a spoke of one of the wheels, beside the driver being badly demoralized. The horse escaped injury.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING CLUB.—This society met in the high school room last evening, and the following members participated in the exercises, which were unusually interesting: Minnie Brown, Ella King, Nellie Harry, Annie Tuttle, Ella Armstrong, Sherry Tupper and Edward Holman. The following question was discussed and decided in the negative: "Resolved, That a hope of reward is a greater incentive to do good than a fear of punishment." The attendance was fair.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Jessie Wilson, who is to speak at the tabernacle this evening, has arrived in the city.

Rev. D. P. Dunn left for Mt. Pulaski at noon, where he will conduct religious services to-morrow.

Geo. R. Fox, the Illinoisian thumper of Hummelstown, Pa., is in the city, visiting his next best friend, John H. Stauffer. The gas man is making his rounds to-day.

J. R. Talbot, of Chicago, well known here, lectured to a small audience in Champaigna one evening last week. He is still advocating prohibition.

Frank Anderson, the grain buyer, left for Toledo to-day, to be absent until Tuesday or Wednesday.

Major "Push" Warner, of Clinton, was in the city to-day, on his way to Terre Haute on legal business.

"Our Boarding House" company came in to-day by the Midland road from Terre Haute and registered at Priest's hotel.

Mrs. and Mrs. C. H. Brown and children returned to-day from an extended visit to relatives and friends residing in Western Missouri. Charles's recreation will enable him to handle Walsh tickets with greater celerity than ever.

Miss Elsie Custer, of Homer, Champaign county, who has been in the city several days visiting in the family of Mr. William Dodson, returned home at noon to-day.—She is a very pleasant young lady, and formed many acquaintances, who will be glad to welcome her return.

Letters from Mr. H. F. May and family say that they have gone to housekeeping for the winter in Colorado, and that the health of Mrs. May is steadily improving. They will not probably return to Decatur until the weather is settled next spring.

Chris. B. Smith, Orderly Sergeant of the Guards, arrived in the city on Thanksgiving day in time to eat a whole turkey and take in the military soiree. Chris. is the same brother of a boy's ever, and looks as if Kansas life agreed with him.

"OUR BOARDING HOUSE."

The comedy with the above title, which is to be performed at the opera house this evening, was thus spoken of by the New York Tribune when produced at the Eagle (newly christened the Standard) Theatre in that city, by the same company which is to play it here:

"The bright and cheerful little Eagle Theatre, rechristened the 'Standard,' was recognized, under its new management, last night. The occasion was one of innocent pleasure and hilarious mirth. 'Our Boarding House' is full of healthy, honest mirth, which never descends to vulgarity, and is never tiresome. A large audience greeted it with peals of laughter. It portrays the eccentricities of the heterogeneous collection of humanity which congregates about the average boarding house table with just enough exaggeration to make the picture entertaining, the somber background of inevitable unhappiness being only sufficiently apparent to heighten the effect. Especial mention should be accorded to Henry Little's personation of Professor Gregarious (Gilligan), the inventor of a flying machine, and to Mr. W. E. Melville, as Colonel M. T. Elford, a corn exchange operator."

THANKS OF THE D. D. C.

WIRELESS.—The supper and entertainment given in the tabernacle, on the evening of the 23d, under the auspices of the Decatur Drum Corps, owed its success largely to outside help; therefore, be it Resolved, That the thanks of the Corps be tendered to Messrs. J. H. Lewis & Co., G. F. Kimball, Clara V. Park, R. L. Evans, Wm. Carter and George Yates.

Resolved, That the most sincere thanks of the Corps be tendered to the ladies who so kindly gave their aid in the management of the supper.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Corps be tendered to the press of the city for its liberality in locals.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished each of the daily papers for publication.

To-day carpenters are at work preparing the stage of the opera house for the special act in which the wild horse rushes over the mountain.

DEATH OF NEWELL JONES.—Mr. E. A. Jones, on the 27th inst., received a telegram from San Antonio, Texas, announcing the death of Newell Jones in that city on that day. Deceased was the oldest son of Mr. J. J. Jones, formerly of this city, now permanently located at San Jose, California. He was a young man well known here, and the intelligence of his death is received with sadness.

POST, THE PAWNBROKER.—On or about January 1st next, Mr. Herman Post, who is now showing out his entire stock of watches, clocks and jewelry, at least than cost, will open a pawnbroker's shop, on East Main street, in the store room now occupied by Foley, the tailor. It will be a branch of a Chicago establishment, and money will be loaned on all sorts of valuables on easy terms. Verily, Decatur is putting on metropolitan airs.

A MURDERER ARRESTED.—Last night an officer belonging to Sullivan, came here with Charles Everman in charge, who murdered a man near Sullivan a few weeks ago, by severing his head from his body with a corn knife. Everman was arrested in some town in Kansas, and the officer had been after him. The prisoner was lodged in our county jail over night for safe keeping, and to-day was taken to Sullivan by the officer having him in charge.

AN ERROR CORRECTED.—Being somewhat musically inclined ourselves, we know by experience that musicians are apt to be sensitive as a class, and as we always try to be particular to get names correctly, we now correct an error in our report of exercises at the Baptist church on Thanksgiving day. It was L. L. Ferris, the shoe man, and not Capt. W. P. Ferris, the oil man, who sang on that occasion. It is a noticeable fact, that while these gentlemen both answer to the same name and are both fine musicians, they are so like.

BETTER BY A DOG.—Yesterday Miss Malloy, youngest daughter of Anthony Malloy, residing northeast of the central depot, was seriously bitten by a vicious dog, belonging to Mr. Brooks, the expressman. The dog was killed this morning by policeman Leake. The girl's hip is badly lacerated.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.—A mule belonging to Esq. Fuller strayed away some days ago, and its owner came to the Bureau can office this morning and ordered some postal cards printed, to advertise his loss. Before the cards were printed the mule came home. Like Capt. Scott's cone, he gave himself up as soon as he knew what was after him.

At the tabernacle this evening the Italian will play and sing from seven to eight o'clock, so that all who desire can enjoy a fine concert and listen to a good lecture for one admission fee, and that only 25 cents.

CHURCH CONCERT.

Stapp's Chapel Academy's First Public Entertainment.

Stapp's Chapel Academy, recently organized, gave their first public concert in the church last evening, and a goodly number of people were in attendance. The entertainment consisted of select readings, recitations, solos, duets, quartette singing, and delightful music by the Italian band. The following persons participated: Rev. S. MacBurney, Rev. Mr. Chittenden, of the U. B. church, Miss Rosa Gibson, Miss Penna Wayne, Miss Lulu McKenzie, Mr. Ed. Sloan, Mr. Fred. Wessels, Mrs. J. C. Lake, Mrs. A. W. Conklin, George Handy and Miss Rose Jackson. Altogether it was a very pleasing entertainment. We understand the Academy is weekly adding to its membership, and will give a number of entertainments during the winter.

Malignant and subtle indeed is the poison of Scrofula, and terrible are its ravages in the system. They may, however, be permanently stayed and the destructive virus expelled from the circulation with SCROFULA BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, a potent vegetable detergent, which eradicates all skin diseases, leaving no vestige of them behind. White swelling, salt rheum, tetters, abscesses, liver complaint, and eruptions of every description are invariably cured by it. Sold by S. M. Irwin, the Live Druggist, Decatur. (30-dit)

A SNORT RUN.—Yesterday afternoon Constable Wetzel's horse broke from his moorings, on the west side of Warren & Durfee's office, and with buggy attached took a lively turn around the American House corner, upsetting the buggy and being against the fence of Culp's wagon yard. One third of the vehicle was broken, also a spoke of one forewheel, beside the dasher being badly demoralized. The horse escaped injury.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING CLUB.—This society met in the high school room last evening, and the following members participated in the exercises, which were unusually interesting: Minnie Brown, Clara King, Nellie Harry, Annie Tuttle, Ellis Armstrong, Sherry Tupper and Edw. R. Hellman. The following question was discussed and decided in the negative: "Resolved, That a hope of reward is a greater incentive to do good than a fear of punishment."

Loans.—Private funds on farm lands. Nov. 30-dit. J. M. CLOVER.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Miss Jessie Wilson, who is to speak at the tabernacle this evening, has arrived in the city.

Rev. D. P. Dunn left for Mt. Pulaski at noon, where he will conduct religious services to-morrow.

Geo. R. Fox, the Illiputian thumper of Hummelstown, Pa., is in the city, visiting his next best friend, John H. Stauffer. The gas man is making his rounds to-day.

J. R. Talbot, of Chicago, well known here, lectured to a small audience in the tabernacle one evening last week. He is still advocating prohibition.

Frank Anderson, the grain buyer, left for Toledo to-day, to be absent until Tuesday or Wednesday.

Major "Pash" Warner, of Clinton, was in the city to-day, on his way to Terre Haute on legal business.

"Our Boarding House" company came in to-day by the Midland road from Terre Haute and registered at Priest's hotel.

Mrs. and Mrs. C. H. Brown and children returned to-day from an extended visit to relatives and friends residing in Western Missouri. Charles's recreation will enable him to handle Whisk tickets with greater celerity than ever.

Miss Emma Custer, of Homer, Champaign county, who has been in the city several days visiting in the family of Mr. William Dodson, returned home at noon to-day. She is a very pleasant young lady, and formed many acquaintances, who will be glad to welcome her return.

Letters from Mr. H. F. May and family say that they have gone to housekeeping for the winter in Colorado, and that the health of Mrs. May is steadily improving. They will not probably return to Decatur until the weather is settled next spring.

Chris. H. Smith, Orderly Sergeant of the Guards, arrived in the city on Thanksgiving day in time to eat a home turkey and take in the military soiree. Chris. is the same brother of a boy in ever, and looks as if Kansas life agreed with him.

"OUR BOARDING HOUSE."

The comedy with the above title, which is to be performed at the opera-house this evening, was thus spoken of by the New York Tribune when produced at the Eagle (newly christened the Standard) Theatre in that city, by the same company which is to play it here:

"The bright and cheerful little Eagle Theatre, rechristened the 'Standard,' was reopened, under its new management, last night. The occasion was one of innocent pleasure and hilarious mirth. 'Our Boarding House' was full of healthy, honest mirth which never descends to vulgarity, and is never tiresome. A large audience greeted it with words of laughter. It portrays the eccentricities of the heterogeneous collection of humanity which congregates about the average boarding house table with just enough exaggeration to make the picture entertaining, the sombre background of inevitable unhappiness being only sufficiently apparent to heighten the effect. Especial mention should be accorded to Henry Little's personation of Professor Gregarious Gillyplop, the inventor of a flying machine, and to Mr. W. E. Melville, as Colonel M. T. Elberton, a corn exchange operator."

THANKS OF THE D. D. C.

WIKERAS, The supper and entertainment given in the tabernacle, on the evening of the 23d, under the auspices of the Decatur Drum Corps, owed its success largely to outside help, and therefore, be it Resolved, That the thanks of the Corps be tendered to Messrs. J. H. Lewis & Co., G. F. Kimball, Clara V. Park, R. L. Evans, Wm. Carter and George Yates.

Resolved, That the most sincere thanks of the Corps be tendered to the ladies who so kindly gave their aid in the management of the supper.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Corps be tendered to the press of the city for its liberality in locals.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished each of the daily papers for publication.

The Daily Republican.
A QUEER IDEA.
At the beginning of the last century Peter the Great, of Russia, caused much dissatisfaction in the church, and though the church among the peasantry, by decreeing that January, and not, as heretofore, September, should be counted as the first month in the year. This heretical and truly Satanic alteration conflicted, it was said, in the most flagrant manner with the story of the temptation of Eve and the fall of man. In September apples are ripe, and trees laden with apples may be seen. But in January the apple trees are bare, and it could not, therefore, be true that in that month the incidents took place which are related as having occurred at the very beginning of the world's history. A sovereign who besides giving himself the unimpeachable and seemingly diabolical name of Emperor, had ordered that the history of the world should be regarded as having begun at an impossible season, was clearly anti-christ in person. The horror, in short, which was inspired by Peter's daring modification of the calendar—though the change consisted only in his ordering that January should be regarded as the first month of the year—was a much more important step in the same direction than the step contemplated by the present Czar. The Russian calendar is twelve days behind that of the rest of the civilized world, and it is now in contemplation to adopt the world's almanac.
